Tables many prominent visitors have the spring, summer and autumn colonies.

The swimming pool will be open for those who have taken on the new fad here of going to the pool for a swim after dancing, and there will be informal parties at the tables on the terrace adjoining the pool.

For the last fortnight, several times a week, following two or three hours' strenuous dancing, visitors have insisted upon the pool being opened just before midnight for swimming parties.

Later informal chafing dish parties on the terrace have been a feature.
